

Dip Into Europe's Olive Oil Offerings

By GIOVANNA PALATUCCI

Artisanal olive estates are opening their doors to travelers, but if you can't take a gustatory getaway, let the oil come to you. Check out these products from France, Italy, Spain, and Greece, available online. Crusty bread not included.

CASA MARGHERITA Trevi, Italy

All olives, all the time? Adopt a tree from Casa Margherita's grove and receive some of Umbria's finest oil throughout the year, pressed from your tree's own olives.

$92 per year

www.casa-margherita.com/olive-oil/oliveoil.html

CASTELAS

Vallée des Baux de Provence, France

French for "old castle," Castelas extra virgin olive oil is pressed from the olives of a 100-year-old grove and tastes of basil and green vegetables.

$20 per bottle

www.castelasshop.fr

SAN LEANDRO Córdoba, Spain

Spanish olives from this ancient Andalusian grove were first pressed in 1916. Today's San Leandro extra virgin olive oil is delicate and aromatic.

$127 for 6 bottles

www.med-int.com

Taste of Travel
DIGITAL BONUS

MOULIN JEAN
MARIE CORNILLE

Vallée des Baux de
Provence, France

Like Provençal wine in its delicacy, the Moulin Jean Marie Cornille black extra virgin olive oil contains hints of underwood, cocoa, and artichoke.

$26 per bottle

www.moulin-cornille.com

ELEA

Athens, Greece

Elea, an award-winning olive oil from Sparta and Corinth, is both organic and kosher for Passover.

$19 per bottle

[http://elealiveoil.com/
commerce](http://elealiveoil.com/commerce)

ANTONIO CELENTANO

Córdoba, Spain

This extra virgin olive oil from Córdoba, Spain is produced from a variety of olives including local picudos. $15 per bottle

www.antonio-celentano.com